

House in a village classified as UNESCO Heritage

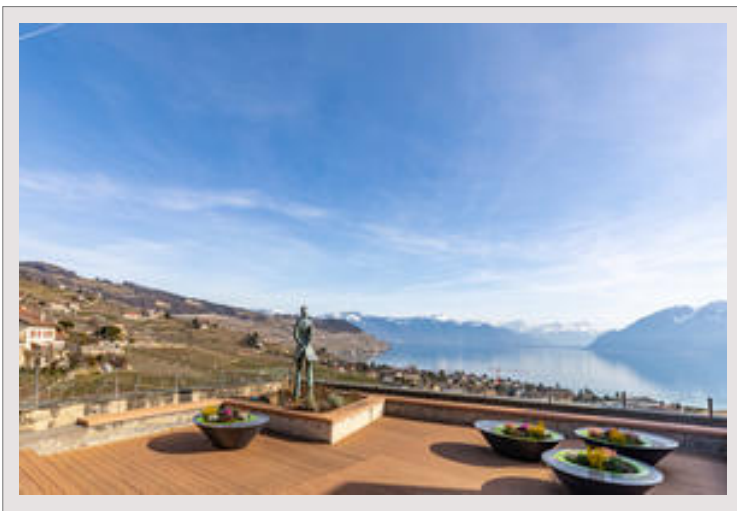

For sale Switzerland

3 000 000 €

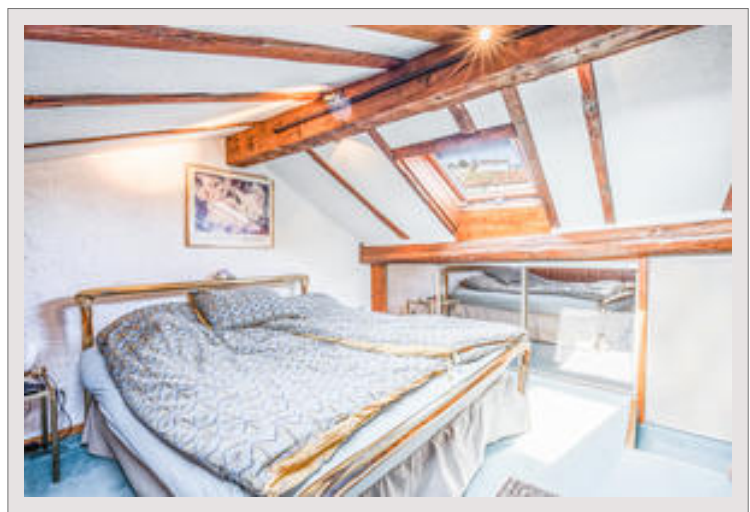

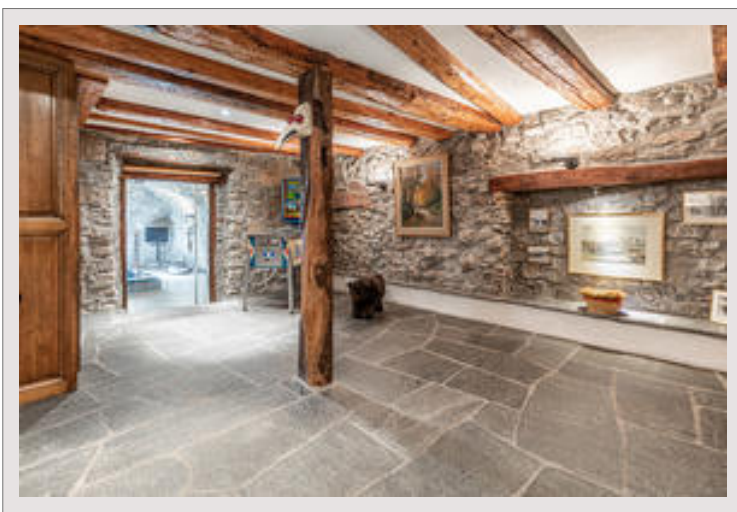

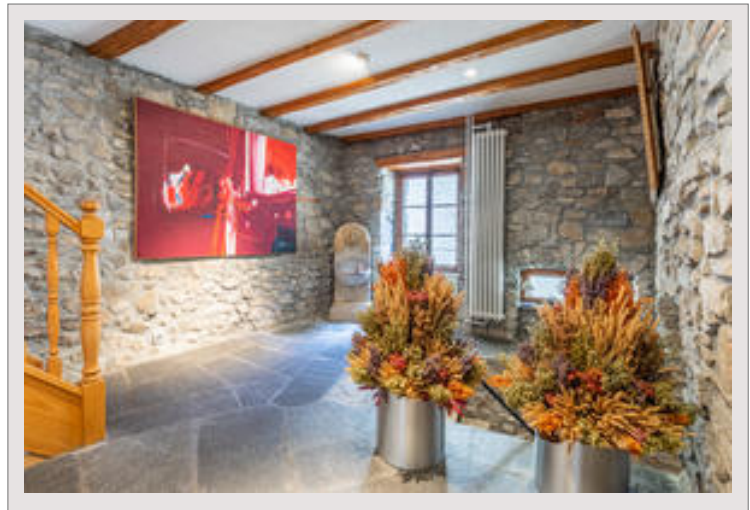

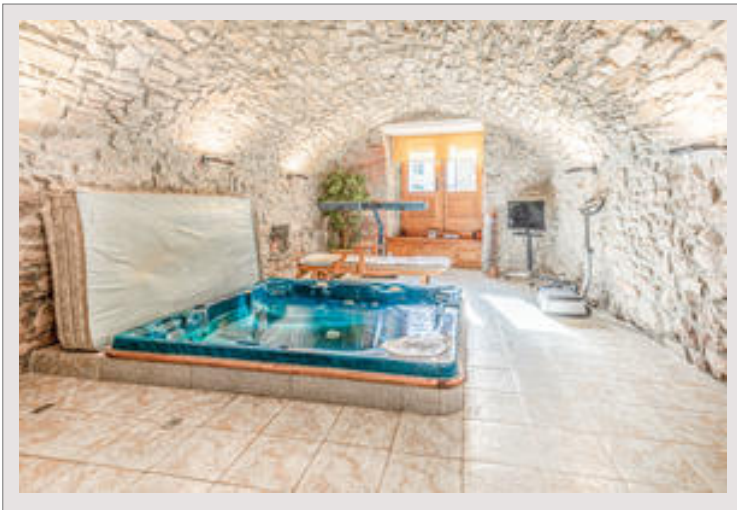

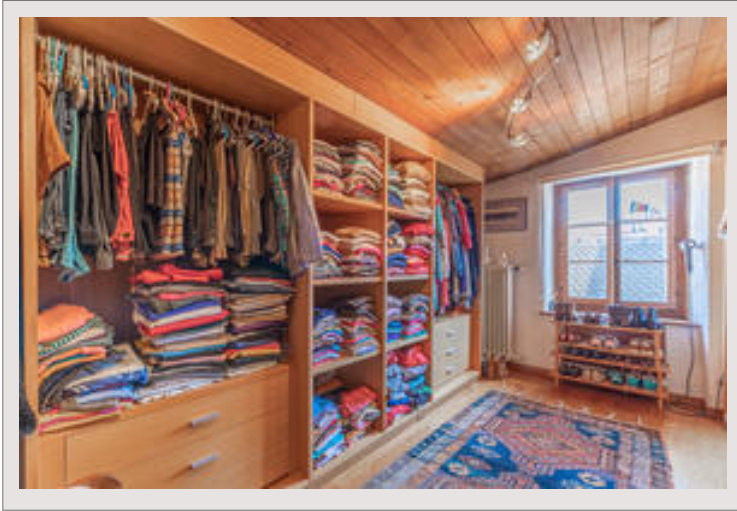

Nestled in the charming town of Grandvaux, region listed as a Unesco world heritage site, this magnificent village house of 400 m2 will seduce you with its many spaces and its irresistible character that associates perfectly the charm of the old with the comfort of the modern.

Type	For sale	Total area	576 sqm
Product type	House	Living area	400 sqm
Number of rooms	11	Terrace area	13 sqm
City	Bourg-en-Lavaux	Land area	163 sqm
Country	Switzerland	Bedrooms	+5
Floor	3	Cellars	1
View	Panoramic sea and mountain	Exposure	south west
In collaboration with	Sam Debatty - Homewell	Release date	Now
Annual costs	6 000 €

This traditional house was originally built in 1550. Originally, it consisted of 3 separate dwellings and a shop on the ground floor. Assembled into a household and transformed with quality materials and a certain taste by the current owners, we find the possibility of enjoying the entirety of this vast house, ideal accommodation for a large family or even partitioning the 3 apartments to obtain a rental yield.

House in a village classified as UNESCO Heritage

House in a village classified as UNESCO Heritage

